Jim Roletto named office manager for David Evans and Associates, Inc. Spokane, Wash. and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho offices

PORTLAND, Ore. – June 17, 2008 – Jim Roletto has been promoted to office manager of David Evans and Associates, Inc.'s (DEA) Spokane, Wash., and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, offices. Roletto joined DEA in August 2007 after a 20-year career with the Idaho Department of Transportation. Since joining DEA, Roletto has been developing construction engineering services for DEA in Idaho and within the Rocky Mountain region. Roletto has a bachelor's degree in civil engineering from Gonzaga University and is a registered civil engineer in Idaho.

“Jim’s leadership skills and broad experience made him an ideal candidate for office manager,” said Joe Hart, DEA’s Rocky Mountain Regional Manager. “Though we had not initially hired him into this important position, he quickly gained the trust of the office management team while expanding our client base and diversified our practice throughout the region.”

The Spokane and Coeur d’Alene offices of DEA have worked on many notable projects within the community. DEA’s Spokane and Salem, Ore. offices were retained to manage and design the Monroe Street Bridge rehabilitation project, and DEA’s Spokane office worked on the design of Mirabeau Meadows, located at the north end of Mirabeau Point. The Spokane and Coeur d’Alene offices also worked as subconsultants on the U.S. 95 Garwood to Sagle highway project providing surveying, traffic analysis and environmental planning services.

Since its founding in 1976 in Portland, Ore., DEA has become a recognized leader for progressive and sustainable design and management solutions for complex transportation, land development, energy, and water resources projects nationwide. The firm has over 20 offices in seven states and employs more than 1,000 people. Its staff includes professional engineers, surveyors, planners, landscape architects, and natural resources scientists. DEA is an employee-owned corporation and consistently ranks among Engineering News Record’s Top 100 Pure Design firms in the U.S. DEA and its staff are committed to improving the quality of life, while demonstrating stewardship of the built and natural environments.
