Steve Long named transportation business line leader for David Evans and Associates, Inc.

PORTLAND, Ore. – Aug. 20, 2008 – Steve Long has been named transportation business line leader for David Evans and Associates, Inc. (DEA). In this role, Long will be responsible for developing strategic transportation markets for DEA and further building the transportation practice within the firm. He will be based in DEA's Denver, Colo., office and continue his transportation project work in the Denver region.

Long joined DEA in August 2001 as a senior transportation engineer in the Denver office. He was named transportation discipline director in November 2005 and recently served as interim office manager for DEA's Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Spokane, Wash., offices.

Long is a registered civil engineer in Colo., Idaho, Mont., Neb., N.M., Ore., Utah and Wash. Some of the notable projects on which he has worked include the final design for Arapahoe Road and the Parker Road Interchange in Arapahoe County, Colo., and working as the Corridor Manager of the $700 million West Corridor Light Rail project linking western communities in the greater Denver area.

Since its founding in 1976 in Portland, Ore., DEA has become a recognized leader for progressive and sustainable design and management solutions for complex transportation, land development, energy, and water resources projects nationwide. The firm has more than 23 offices in seven states and employs more than 1,000 people. Its staff includes professional engineers, surveyors, planners, landscape architects, and natural resources scientists. DEA is an employee-owned corporation and consistently ranks among Engineering News Record's Top 100 Pure Design firms in the U.S. DEA and its staff are committed to improving the quality of life, while demonstrating stewardship of the built and natural environments.
